RESEARCH PROJECT

“Development of the DIVERSITY integrated methodology”

The aim of the research project is to proceed with the development of the PSS Lean Design integrated methodology already under development in the DIVERSITY project. In particular, the research project will focus on the integration of the methodology in the DIVERSITY platform and in the BCs, by the definition of Change Management guidelines. The main objective is to provide to the manufacturing companies a set of methodologies, organizational guidelines and a Software tool which guide them during all the PSS design process. Moreover, during the research project the methodology and the related platform will be validated in real cases and improved. The research project is related to the WP2, WP5, WP6, WP7.
